History

Find out about significant Victorian women such as Mary Seacole, Florence Nightingale and Elizabeth Garrett Anderson (the first English woman to qualify as a doctor), Charlotte Bronte, George Eliot (whose name was Mary Ann Evans) and Mrs. Beeton.

OR

Find out about life as a child worker in factories, coal mines, chimney sweeps or scullery maids and write a day in the life including illustrations.

Maths

Research what maths was like in the Victorian classroom. (Use this website to help <https://nrich.maths.org/5892>)

Investigate to see whether these statements are true or false, what else have you learned? Present your findings as a poster.

- There was only one classroom.
- Girls and boys were taught together.
- Each class had their own teacher, just like today.
- Back then, they used the same 'money system' as today.

4	12	8 ¼ +
2	14	2 ¼ +
1	3	5 ¼

-  This was an example of an addition calculation.
- They didn't use paper in those days because it was very expensive.

Art & Design

Create a design of your own based on William Morris prints.
